In a challenging and competitive environment, the support of Tasmanians has again ensured that we have been able to raise over $4.0 million to provide the programs and services that underpin our Mission. As an organisation that relies on the community for over 90% of our funds, we are humbled by the selfless support and generosity of our donating public who we can very proudly continue to advise that all the funds stay here in Tasmania.

During the year we provided over 5,300 occasions of support, transported 280 people to 3,900 treatment appointments, undertook over 80 cancer prevention activities to a broad range of communities and continued to invest into important cancer research. A very busy but rewarding year.

Over nine Tasmanians a day are receiving a cancer diagnosis. The impact of the diagnosis affects a larger number of people. We are pleased to support anyone who is impacted by cancer and during the year expanded our support services with the opening of our new Southern Cancer Support Centre in Sandy Bay. The centre is modelled on our northern centre and allows us to provide a range of complementary services that we could not provide from our previous site. The move also allowed us to consolidate all our southern staff and services into one building. We hope you take the opportunity to come and visit our new support centre and see the tangible outcome from the funds that have been raised.

This year we commenced providing support from the Icon Cancer Centre in Hobart and are very grateful for the purpose built space within their complex. We also continued to provide outreach support from the North West Cancer Centre which provides us an additional opportunity on the coast aside from our new base in Devonport.

Transport to treatment is an important service and we were pleased to be able to expand the service during 2017-18 to the north of the State. Already there has been a consistent use of the vehicle and we have transported a number of clients to their treatment appointments who otherwise would have found it extremely difficult. Thank you to all our volunteer drivers around the state who help us deliver this service for our clients.

We again contributed funds towards Tasmanian based cancer research across a range of activities. We funded clinical trials at the two major public hospitals, provided academic scholarships and funding for research grants, which were again subsidised from funds from the auctioning of naming rights at the Southern Cancer Council Gala Ball.

We have a large number of corporate and business supporters who assist us in fundraising activities, through financial assistance or participate in our cancer prevention programs. Their support reduces our fundraising burden and therefore ensures there are more funds to invest in our Mission. We are privileged and proud to be associated with so many great supporters.

Our fundraising team has been extremely busy over the year with six Relay for Life events across the State, the Womens 5Km Walk/Run in Launceston which drew over 1800 participants and the continued focus on our Unite in Yellow theme in support of the Daffodil. Our balls, lunches and breakfasts were all well attended and coupled with over 128 community fundraisers doing their own “thing” for us, adding to the receipt of bequests and donations ensured we could deliver our services and programs.

This year we welcomed new Directors Belinda Webster, Mai Frandsen, Jennifer Garden and Greg Peterson onto the CCT Board whilst farewelling and thanking Stephen Foster, Scott Adams and our most recent President Sandra French for their many years of volunteer service and commitment to the organisation.

Thank you to all the staff, the board and our volunteers for the giving of your time and commitment to Cancer Council Tasmania. Without your passion and energy we would not be able to deliver on our Mission or strive to achieve the aspirational vision of a cancer free future.

Our organisational structure

Thank you to the Cancer Council Tasmania Board who volunteer their time, their wealth of experience and professionalism to governing the organisation each year.

Why our work is important

“More than nine Tasmanians are diagnosed with cancer each day.”

Cancer Council Tasmania is a charity that works to minimise the incidence and impact of cancer for Tasmanians through state wide support, cancer prevention education, advocacy and research.

In 2017/18 the organisation had a support centre in Ulverstone (which has recently relocated to Devonport) and two purpose built cancer support centres in Hobart and Launceston which are unique in Australia.

Cancer Council Tasmania relies heavily on the community for its funding. Over 90 per cent of the funds required to operate the business come from the community through fundraising events, bequests and donations.

Today, Cancer Council Tasmania’s services are financially supported by fundraising events such as Relay For Life, Australia’s Biggest Morning Tea, Daffodil Day, Girls Night In, Gala Balls, Unite In Yellow breakfasts and lunches as well as community fundraising events which are initiated, managed and attended by generous members of the public.

Our Vision is for a cancer free future.
